

Raspberry Cream Pie
8/1/2024

⇒ Ingredients

- 25 chocolate sandwich cookies, such as Oreos, plus more crumbs for serving
- 6 Tbsp. salted butter, melted
- 1 1/4 c. raspberries, plus more for serving
- 3 Tbsp. granulated sugar
- 2 (6-oz.) containers raspberry yogurt
- 1 (3.4-oz) package instant vanilla pudding mix
- 1 c. heavy whipping cream
- Whipped cream, to serve

⇒ Directions

1. To make the crust, preheat the oven to 350°F. Crush the cookies in a food processor (or smash in a zip-top bag with a rolling pin). Stir in the melted butter until all combined. Pour into a regular pie pan and press the crumbs all over the pan and up the sides. Bake for 3 to 6 minutes—just long enough for it to set. Cool the crust completely.
2. Place raspberries on a plate or in an empty pan. Smash them with a fork, then sprinkle on the sugar. Stir it all together and allow to sit for 15 minutes.
3. In the bowl of an electric mixer, combine the yogurt with the pudding mix (just the powder itself). Beat on low speed until combined, about 1 minute. Pour in the cream and whip on low speed for 30 seconds. Stop the mixer and scrape down the bowl with a rubber spatula. Turn the mixer on medium-high speed and beat until the mixture is thick, 2 minutes.
4. Turn off the mixer, then fold in the raspberries until just combined. Pour into the cooled pie pan and spread evenly. Freeze until very firm, 2 hours. Cut into slices and top each slice with cookie crumbs, dollops of whipped cream, and extra raspberries. Keep in the freezer, allowing time to thaw before serving.

RESIDENT OF THE MONTH
Barron & Mary Gray

I grew up in Weeks Island. Mary grew up in Brownsville, Texas. We met at the aviation cadet club at Harlingen Air Force Base in October 1961. We got married the following May when I graduated from flight school. I was 21; she was 19.

Mary loved bridge and antiques. She had national points from the National Bridge Society. After the kids were gone, she opened an antique shop which grew into an antique mall.

I loved flying, fishing, and hunting. How lucky I was to make a living doing something I loved.

I am extremely proud of my military service. I pulled air defense alert (NORAD) in the USAF and ANG from 1963 to 1982. That was the peak of the cold war. The Viet-Cong were never a threat to the American Homeland, the Soviet long-range bombers were.
