

Ma Maw's "Muddled" Memories

"My Favorite Story about Daddy"

My bald—Headed Daddy was a cardiac patient and was diagnosed with coronary thrombosis. This meant her had to take cumadin, a blood thinner, to keep his blood from thickening and causing clots and heart attacks. His teeth were very bad and the doctors felt the decay was contributing to his poor health. Because he would require oral surgery, it was necessary to lower his cumadin level while in the hospital or his blood would not clot as it should. Finally, the surgery was completed and I went to visit with hm.

Now, my dad was a very undemonstrative person. He rarely showed open affection or praise, but he was a true gentleman and made gallant efforts to be kind. As I gazed at him in the hospital bed, I said:

"John Auburn, John Auburn, you have no heart, you have not hair, now you don't even have any teeth. What good are you anyway?"

He slowly raised his eyes to meet mine and said:

"But I'm still good to Love!"

I shall Treasure that statement for the rest of my life.

What is your favorite memory of your mom growing up?

There was nothing my mom couldn't do. She worked 52 years at Trappey's canning factory. And would sometimes be found on top of the roof covering the turbulent vent.
 - Sylvia Albert

My favorite memory of my mother was meal time. From Crawfish Etouffee, Chicken Fricassee, and chicken Dumplings it was all good.
 - Lucile Duhon

My mom always made sure that we did our weekly family nights because family was the most important thing to her. I always knew I could find her in the kitchen cooking and it was probably spaghetti.
 - Canary Leblanc

Some of my best memories of my mom was when she would cook, she loved to do that. While she cooked we would sit at the table, crack jokes and catch up on our day.
 - Nancy Smith

Mom would always have a snack whenever we got home from school, and made she we were always well dressed.
 - Brenda Brasseaux

My mom was know for cooking, sewing, always doing her makeup, going to church, She would make sure me and my siblings were always matching, as kids we hated it, but now that I'm older I think it was very cute.
 - Tommy Pospisil

Celebrated all the moms with Flowers, Flowers and more flowers!
